DUSTSHIELD LLC ACQUIRES THE APP PROS LLC

Acquisition Expands Services

Springfield, MO, January 26, 2015– DustShield LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of American Products LLC and owner of Phoenix Kiosk, has acquired the assets of The App Pros LLC and plans to combine all three companies to expand the service offerings of each brand. Jody Chaffin, CEO of The App Pros, and David Rutter, CTO of The App Pros, will lead all operations of the combined companies.

“By joining forces with DustShield and Phoenix Kiosk, we immediately become a national and international company with the ability to provide full solutions to a wider array of industries. This is a big advantage for the customers of all three companies.” Jody Chaffin, CEO of The App Pros DustShield acquired Phoenix Kiosk in March 2013 to expand its products beyond custom industrial computer enclosures to consumer facing kiosks. Now with the acquisition of The App Pros, customers will be able to take advantage of a full solution by including custom software and integration with their corporate systems. The App Pros will continue to develop mobile apps and provide software development services to their existing customers, as well as those of DustShield and Phoenix Kiosk.

“American Products is focused on providing Innovative Solutions to its customers and no one knows innovation like an entrepreneur. Jody and David, along with their team at The App Pros, are true entrepreneurs. Under their leadership, customers of the newly formed organization of Dustshield, Phoenix Kiosk and The App Pros, will experience unique opportunities through the combined resources of our manufacturing, integration, mechanical design and software development resources.” Bill Hammitt, COO of American Products

DustShield™ solutions protect mission-critical hardware and prevent downtime. Since 1992, over 25,000 DustShield enclosures have been deployed to thousands of Fortune 500 customers in hundreds of industries. Made in the USA means that when you work with DustShield, your satisfaction is guaranteed.

Phoenix Kiosk is a true end-to-end supplier of kiosk hardware and custom kiosk software, services and support, and supplies. There are very few kiosk companies that can provide customers with a turn-key kiosk solution.

Founded in June 2011, The App Pros is a software company specializing in mobile app development. It develops apps for all devices (iPhone/iPad, Android/Tablets, Windows Phone), as well as, providing enterprise-level custom software development and consulting services.
